

A break from pharmaceutical bottles

Staff at Hitchin Museum are having a break from cleaning the hundreds of bottles from the Victorian Pharmacy and have moved on to some more unusual and larger objects. Here, Gill dusts and hoovers a model of a church pulpit, made locally from wood and leather.

Gill cleans a model pulpit

Share this:

Email

A break from pharmaceutical bottles

Print

Facebook

Twitter

Pocket

WhatsApp

Pinterest

Reddit