

A new blog to follow

A survey carried out by Kris Lockyear and his team at Verulamium (St Albans)

Sensing the Iron Age and Roman Past: Geophysics and the Landscape of Hertfordshire is a new blog about an Arts and Humanities Research Council funded project being carried out by Kris Lockyear of University College London. He and interested local groups will be investigating a number of Late Iron Age and Roman sites throughout Hertfordshire — from small farmsteads to the city of Verulamium — across the county that hold the potential to yield new information about this important period in the county's history.
